John Singletary, Synthesis #17

Building on a lifetime of photographic excellence. John Singletary presents a survey of some exemplary work from the recent past.

“Synthesis” is a series of images created by applying mixtures of darkroom chemistry, pigments and other elements in solution to plates of glass and photographing the unpredictable interactions that unfold over time using a 4x5 view camera. In the series “Eroticism and Emptiness” I am interested in using an approach to creating pictures that is rooted in the traditions of both theatre and cinema.

John was one of our honored artists of the year and we are pleased to see his work at Red Filter Fine Art Photography Gallery.

From April 1 – April 30
